Founded in 1984, Los Diablos is a chapter of the Arizona State University (ASU) Alumni Association and an affiliate of the ASU Foundation. Los Diablos' Board of Directors is composed of ASU Latino Alumni who, in partnership with ASU, the private sector, community organizations, and volunteers, are committed to the educational and professional development of Latino college students.

Los Diablos' provides financial assistance to outstanding Arizona Latino students attending, or will attend, Arizona State University. To date, Los Diablos has awarded over 2,000 scholarships to ASU students. The scholarship is equivalent to one academic school year in-state tuition.

In addition to financial assistance, Los Diablos also committed to mentoring its scholars. Each year, scholars are paired with a mentor, who is either a Los Diablos board member or a volunteer from the community, who meet with their scholar to discuss strategies for academic success and career opportunities related to their field of study. Professional skills development is another component of the program. Scholars are given instruction on how to write cover letters, prepare for job interviews, and partake in public speaking exercises. Scholars are also required to complete several service projects in the community.

Los Diablos scholars have also been awarded prestigious scholarships and selected for highly coveted internship positions, while attending ASU. Scholars have interned at the Arizona State Legislature; Congressional offices in Washington D.C.; and various corporate offices. Indeed, alumni work in various sectors of government; have started their own businesses; and have been accepted to prestigious graduate programs in law, business, and science.

As a Los Diablos scholar, you will join a long and rich tradition of Latino alumni that have attended Arizona State University. We look forward to reviewing your application.

The logo for Los Diablos is written in a stylized, cursive script. The words "Los Diablos" are written in black ink, with a thick underline that extends to the right and ends in a double-headed arrow pointing left and right.
